JACKSON, MO., JULY 8, 1909.

The prohibition laws went into force in Tennessee last week.

E. F. Regenhart is a candidate for U. S. Marshal of this district. We hope Ed will succeed in landing the job.

You can fool part of the people all the time as true today as when Lincoln said it, and there is always someone to work it.

These new people that our citizens are taking so kindly to in every line are Biblical—they meet strangers and they take them in.

Judge Argus Cox has been appointed one of the three judges of the new Court of Appeals at Springfield. The selection is a good one.

The American people want to be humbugged. So said P. T. Barnum. If you don't believe it, observe the clothing notes at the banks and then see our home merchants.

Cape Girardeau county is a strong Republican county, and we shall manage next year to elect Republicans to office, from representative to constable. Now, watch us.

Some say that F. E. Kies will be a candidate for Congress from the 14th District in 1910. Mr. Kies runs well for representative, and we see no good reason that he should not aspire higher.

We notice that circuit judges are announcing in other districts. Why not come out and indicate intentions? How would Judge Orren Wilson of the Cape do for Republican candidate from this district?

The political pot is simmering some. Wybark, Speer, Peck, Bothwell and Swanger are mentioned as Republican material for governor, and McDavid and Mumphreys are said to be good Democratic material. All know that Dave Ball is good material.

The following officers are to be elected in the county next year: Representative, prosecuting attorney, coroner, presiding judge of county court, two associate judges, probate judge, recorder, collector, county clerk, circuit clerk, common pleas clerk. And we have good Republican material for each office.

It is bad enough for boys to smoke cigarettes, but it seems to us much worse to see girls take up the habit. This is what some of our young girls are doing, so we hear. Of course, we can expect little better in this "Do as you please" age. We are living in a time when everybody thinks everybody should do as he pleases morally. In fact, we have about reached Pope's standard—"Whatever is right."

Everybody seems to be brushing up for the Home-Comers in August. Well, the Herald office has none of that trouble. We invite every Home-Come to come and view the artificial bayou on the west side of the office. They can view this scene free, but if they stand there too long it may cost them a trip to some specialist for treatment of their olfactory nerves. However, Home-Comers, come!

Last Saturday being a leisure day, we expected the garbage man around to disinfect and clean up the premises near the cess-pool, but he did not put in his appearance. Now, it does not make any particular difference to us whether the offal and debris are removed or not, but Neighbors Hines, Lindsey and Brase are much annoyed by the peculiar smell from this famous alley, hence, Judge B. F. Davis-like, we thought we would ring the bell and sound the alarm and likely it would result in the saving of some sickness.

We hear that Bill Cochran is still around in the neighborhood where he did the shooting some time ago. Many people say they see him every day, but our officers cannot find him. There must be some mistake about the matter.

County Exhibitors.

I am pleased to inform the readers of your paper that I now have a supply of State Fair Premium Lists in my office for distribution to those who are interested in making exhibits at the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia this fall. The State Fair dates are October 2nd to 8th.

Our State Fair is growing at a rapid rate, and the Premium Lists each year shows increased premiums and additional departments, and I hope that a large number of exhibits will be made by citizens of this county. There is no better opportunity to advertise the resources of our county than to make good exhibits at the State Fair.

The directors are making a special effort this year for a big Corn Show in addition to the regular agriculture exhibits. The premiums for many exhibits are large and will more than pay the expense of getting together a good exhibit.

Fred Goyert, Co. Clerk.

GUARDIAN'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that, on June 21, 1909, the undersigned was appointed guardian of the person and estate of Grace Brown, an insane person, by the Probate Court of Cape Girardeau county, Mo., and that letters bearing date June 21, 1909, were issued to him.

All persons having claims against said estate are requested to present them to the undersigned for allowance within one year from date of said letters; and if they be not presented within two years they will be forever barred.

R. A. Hitt, Guardian.

TRUSTEES' SALE.

Whereas, Joseph Merideth and Margaret Merideth, his wife, by deed of trust dated August 31, 1905, conveyed to the undersigned trustee the following described real estate situated in the county of Cape Girardeau and State of Missouri, to-wit:

The Southwest quarter of the Southwest quarter of Section 26 in Township 33 North, Range 12 East, containing forty acres, more or less.

And, whereas said conveyance was made to secure a certain promissory note therein described; and, whereas default has been made in the payment of said note;

Now, therefore, I, the undersigned trustee, by virtue of the authority on me by said deed of trust conferred, will, on Thursday, July 29, 1909, at the south door of the court house in the city of Jackson, State of Missouri, sell the real estate hereinbefore described to the highest bidder for cash in hand to discharge said debt and cost of executing this trust.

William Seibert, Trustee.

The Schumer Springs Sanitarium

Preserving Fence Posts.

Every farmer is familiar with the rotting of his fence posts at the surface of the ground. The labor of replacing them and how to secure new and durable posts are sources of constant annoyance and expense. Even the more durable woods, such as chestnut, white oak and cedar, decay in eight or ten years. It is true that there are a few kinds of wood in the United States, such as locust and osage orange, which give much longer service, but their supply, never very large, is rapidly becoming exhausted, and the farmer must now look to some other source for his posts. Perhaps directly on his farm there may be a patch of woods which include such trees as black oak, beech, maple or pine, and cottonwoods and willows may grow along the banks of his streams. These are trees which heretofore have been thought of little or no use for posts, because of the rapidity with which they are attacked by decay. In their natural condition they will rot in two or three years—too soon to pay for the labor of setting them. The Forest Service in its study of prolonging the life of fence posts has found cheap and simple methods of preserving them in a sound condition for an indefinite time, even though they are the poorest and naturally least durable woods.

Decay is not a simple process like the crumbling of stone or the rusting of iron. It is caused by low forms of plant life which thoroughly permeate the wood, discolor it and cause it to become disconnected and "rotten." To preserve the timber in a thoroughly sound condition, it is only necessary to render the wood unfit for the growth of these organisms. This is done by injecting into it substances poisonous to plant life.

One of the most widely used preservatives is creosote, one of the by-products of coal tar. When it is injected into the wood, decay will be retarded indefinitely, and an old-field pine or cottonwood fence post when properly treated will easily give a life of twenty years or longer. Such a preservative treatment costs about ten cents per post. The creosote can be applied by painting the wood with a brush or dipping it into the liquid, but much better results will be obtained if it is actually injected into the wood instead of merely coating the outside. If the "brush" method, or painting, is used, the creosote should be applied at a temperature of about 180 degrees F. Two coats should be given at least 24 hours apart. If the posts are dipped directly into the preservative, the creosote should be heated to about the same temperature. The best results of all can be obtained by first heating the posts in a bath of hot creosote and then either transferring them quickly to a bath of creosote at a lower temperature or else shutting off the heat and allowing the posts to remain in the oil as it cools. By such a method, the sapwood will become thoroughly permeated with the creosote.

Full details and specific directions for the treatment of different kinds of posts may be obtained by application to the Forrester, Washington, D. C.

Those interested in the organization of the Stock Show and Sale Association in this county are called to meet at the Court House in Jackson Saturday, July 10, at 2 p. m.

Quaker Oats Griddle Cakes

Try them today!

The family that hasn't eaten Quaker Oats griddle cakes has a delightful surprise coming to it. Besides the delicious flavor, there is the pleasure of knowing you can eat all you want, and the more you eat the better for you. The best of all foods for anyone wanting more strength and vigor.

Hundreds of thousands of packages of Quaker Oats are consumed in Germany annually and almost all of it is eaten in the form of Quaker Oats griddle cakes. In the New York cereal restaurant of the Quaker Oats Company these griddle cakes are very popular.

Here's the best recipe for making them:

2 cups Quaker Oats (uncooked); 1½ cup flour; 1 teaspoonful salt; 1 teaspoonful soda; dissolve in two tablespoonfuls hot water; 1 teaspoonful baking powder (mix in flour); 2½ cups sour milk or buttermilk; 2 eggs beaten lightly; 1 tablespoonful sugar; 1 or 2 tablespoonfuls melted butter (according to richness of milk).

Process: Soak Quaker Oats over night in milk. In the morning mix and sift flour, sugar and salt—add this to Quaker Oats mixture and quantity of melted butter; add eggs beaten lightly—beat thoroughly and cook as griddle cakes—they make your mouth water for more.

Pocahontas.

We certainly have had some hot weather the past week, and we are in need of a good rain. It seems that everything is suffering for want of it, especially some of the corn.

Walter Kieninger of St. Louis came home last week to spend the Fourth among his friends.

Born, to Arthur Petzold and wife, a boy baby; also one to Frank Koerber and wife.

Joe Leimer, our little blacksmith, was on the sick list a few days last week, but is able to be around again.

A. R. Schoen and R. H. Ruehling took a drive out into the country Sunday.

W. M. Kieninger and family, of Wittenburg, spent the Fourth at Pocahontas.

Miss Lorena Snider of Sylvan Grove, Kansas, visited at Cora Kieninger's last week.

Miss Cora gave a party Thursday night in honor of her friend, and everybody enjoyed a good time.

J. C. Engelhart and Miss Freda Kieninger went to Frohna Sunday.

Miss Lena Mueller, Dora and Gusta Leimbach and Bertha Engelhart, of Jackson, were here on the Fourth and enjoyed a good time.

J. R. Adams and Charles Alexander went to Bollinger county Sunday to see a good ball game between Patten and Oak Ridge. The score was 1 to 2 in favor of Patten.

Bessie Alexander, Grace Bowman and Ruddle Hausel went to Jackson to see the game between Chaffee and Jackson.

The Jolly Boys Band furnished the music for the New Wells picnic Saturday and reported a lively old time.

Dr. W. A. Schoen of Appleton and Henry W. Putz, our rural carrier, left Monday for St. Louis and Auburn, Ind., for a vacation. We will be able to make a more definite report of their trip in next week's issue. But look out when they return! There will be something doing.

Life 100,000 Years Ago.

Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. Today the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown of Alexander, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes, "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and stubborn cough." To cure Sore Lungs, Colds, obstinate Coughs, and prevent Pneumonia, it's the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by all druggists. Trial bottle free.
